Copyright Transfer Agreement with Authors

To: Journal of Psychiatry & Neuroscience (assignee/licensee)

In consideration of expenses of reviewing, editing, publishing, and distributing the Article (including text, tables, and figures) titled:

(the "Article")

you, the Author(s), assign(s) your copyright in and to the Article to the Canadian Medical Association. This means that you may not, without the Canadian Medical Association's prior written permission:
- post the Article on any website
- translate or authorize a translation of the Article
- copy or otherwise reproduce the Article, in any format, beyond what is permitted under Canadian copyright law, or authorize others to do so
- copy or otherwise reproduce portions of the Article, including tables and figures, beyond what is permitted under Canadian copyright law, or authorize others to do so.

If you wish to do any of these things, please contact our Permissions Department at 613 731 9331 ext. 2110 or send an e-mail to permissions@cma.ca. This allows us to track the use and distribution of your article. The Canadian Medical Association encourages use for non-commercial, educational purposes, and will not unreasonably deny any such permission request.

You retain your moral rights in and to the Article. This means that the Canadian Medical Association may not assert its copyright in such a way that would negatively reflect on your reputation or your right to be associated with the Article.

The Canadian Medical Association also requires you to warrant the following:
- that you are the Author(s) and sole owner (s), that the Article is original and unpublished, and that you have not previously assigned copyright or granted a licence to any other third party;
- that the Article does not infringe on any proprietary right of any third party and that you have received the permissions necessary to include the work of others in the Article; and
- that the Article does not libel or violate the privacy rights of any third party.
